

BECOMING AN ITOL CENTRE IN THE UK

The Institute

Training & Occupational Learning

ITOL
INSTITUTE OF TRAINING &
OCCUPATIONAL LEARNING

Introduction

The Institute of Training and Occupational Learning is Internationally recognised as an elite professional body, uniquely focussed on serving the needs of Learning and Development Professionals. We are a globally recognised brand with a membership presence on every continent, and we pride ourselves on supporting and developing those who are responsible for the management and delivery of people development activities.

For the past twenty five years Learning & Development has been a 'Cinderella' function, often relegated to the far reaches of an HR department, and enjoying very little respect from the organisational movers and shakers who need to deliver change. Our aim is to position L&D at the heart of organisations where they can drive improved performance, deliver business strategy and increase workforce capacity and thereby become recognised as the true agents of change that we really are.

Our in house slogan is "Reclaiming the Profession for the Professionals". This demands that we not only focus on the macro needs of making L&D organisationally relevant but also devoting ourselves to enabling individuals to be the best they possibly can be. To this end we have developed a Professional Development Framework

It's structure is both simple and flexible, and it provides a variety of pathways for the L&D professional to progress their capability in navigating the current complexity of the world of learning. Our qualifications are universally recognised as a benchmark for professionalism, they present the opportunity for progression from Foundation Level through a variety of steps that could eventually lead to a Degree at Masters Level.

It is our aim to build strong, mutually beneficial relationships with Licensed Centres, this will help to enhance the learning experience and try to ensure that students are fully utilising the benefits of ITOL membership.

Thank you for choosing ITOL.
